

Systems Implementation

Make your transitions seamless with implementation resources from Teibel, Inc.

A systems implementation project is complex because it involves changing how work gets done. Failure to effectively manage change brought about by these projects can result in significant cost overruns, harmful delays, and lost opportunities.

We can provide resources to help you in all of the following areas:

- Developing implementation, communication, and training plans
- Managing project teams
- Business process mapping and redesign
- Writing policy and procedure documentation
- Develop custom training material and delivering training
- Conducting train-the-trainer sessions

Teibel Inc. can provide experienced project resources to help you through your systems implementation, and help you deliver your project on time and within budget. Our extensive experience and successful track record will enhance the effectiveness of your team and increase the value of your project investment.

About Teibel, Inc.

At Teibel Inc, we help institutions plan for and cope with change. We are a partner and a team member and know our success is dependent on your lasting success. Our goal is to help our clients mitigate risk and realize the benefit of their investments in people, process and technology.

- Howard Teibel

"Teibel Inc. was hired by Boston College to provide change management, communication, and training services for our PeopleSoft Financials® Project. Their involvement was a major and very successful component of our implementation. Mr. Teibel's work was extremely well received by the BC community and his team integrated superbly with the project team. I highly recommend Teibel, Inc. for a wide variety of technology and change management initiatives."
